

Reading across Quakertown

Friday was a fun day in Quakertown Elementary School as everyone was engaged in Read Across America Day, celebrating the 114th birthday of Dr. Seuss.

Principal Dr. Michael Zackon, attired as Thing 2, read "The Cat in the Hat" to Mrs. Germani's excited kindergarten class.

Aside from the reading all students worked on Friday, there were games, arts and crafts in the school gymnasium, where members of the high school Key Club helped facilitate the various events.
